

The International Federation of Dental Hygienists

Prevention & Treatment WHITE PAPER SERIES

Providing a Global Perspective on the Multi-Faceted Impact of Dental Hygienists

Pre-Natal & Pediatrics
Behavioral Change

Aging & Oral Care
Systemically Compromised

Cost Effectiveness of Prevention
Impact of Sustainability

Over a three-year period, the IFDH will oversee a series of six White Papers with our sponsor to provide evidence-based guidance and information to its 35 national association country members. The White Papers will be valuable resources to use in advocacy efforts and for collaborating with like-minded stakeholders in dentistry, medicine and education.

The series will show the valuable role of the Dental Hygienist in advancing the World Health Organization's Global Strategy on Oral Health. The series will also show other professions how Dental Hygienists are a needed member of the healthcare team, and when empowered to practice to the full extent of their abilities can ultimately improve the overall health of their patients.

The International Federation of Dental Hygienists

100 South Washington Street, Rockville MD 20850, USA

• Phone: 240-778-6790 • Fax: 240-778-6112 • Website: www.IFDH.org